INTRODUCTORY READING

Adaptation

Neighborhood in northeastern Brooklyn, bounded to the north by East New York Avenue, to the east and south by Kings Highway, and to the west by Nostrand Avenue; it was once called Rugby. Development began in the 1920s after the Interborough Rapid Transit extended its subway to Utica Avenue and to Flatbush Avenue along Nostrand Avenue.

Modest one- and two- family attached brick houses were built, and most of the residents were middle-class Jews and Italians. During the late 1960s white families were replaced by African-Americans and immigrants from the Caribbean. East Flatbush in the 1980s drew immigrants from Jamaica, Haiti, Guyana, Trinidad and Tobago, Grenada, Barbados, St. Vincent and the Grenadines, and Panama. A medical complex stands on Clarkson Avenue that includes the Kings County Hospital (1831), Brooklyn State Hospital (1895), and the New York Downstate Medical Center (1950). In 2006 a portion of Church Avenue was renamed Bob Marley Boulevard. Today, the neighborhood is predominantly West Indian.
1. What are the names of the neighborhoods that make up East Flatbush (notice the words that are bolded and in caps)?

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

2. What are some landmarks in East Flatbush?

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

3. How do you think East Flatbush got its name?

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________

4. Are there any buildings on this map that you know do not exist anymore? Explain.

________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
Transcription:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Relation</th>
<th>Personal Description*</th>
<th>Education: Highest Grade of school completed</th>
<th>Place of Birth</th>
<th>Occupation</th>
<th>Industry</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Gebers, Everst</td>
<td>Head</td>
<td>M/W/32/M</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>Germany</td>
<td>Mechanic</td>
<td>Auto repair shop</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-, Anna, Marie</td>
<td>Wife</td>
<td>F/W/26/M</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>New York</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lisby, Christiane</td>
<td>Head</td>
<td>M/W/48/M</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>Ireland</td>
<td>Contractor</td>
<td>Stair Building</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-, Olga</td>
<td>Wife</td>
<td>F/W/45/M</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>Norway</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-, Ethel</td>
<td>Daughter</td>
<td>F/W/10/S</td>
<td>New York</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-, Edith</td>
<td>Daughter</td>
<td>F/W/6/S</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>New York</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McManus, James</td>
<td>Head</td>
<td>M/W/59/M</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>Ireland</td>
<td>Office</td>
<td>Railroad</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*Personal Description – Gender (M/F), Color, Age, Marital Status (Single or Married)
1. When was this census taken?

2. What is the purpose of the United States Federal Census?

3. This is just a small portion of the census from East 45th Street in East Flatbush. However, based on the segment, what kind of people lived in East Flatbush?

4. Do you think the people listed on this census highly educated? Explain.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DATE OF ADMISSION</th>
<th>NAME</th>
<th>AGE</th>
<th>MARIED</th>
<th>NATIVITY</th>
<th>WHERE FROM</th>
<th>CLASS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Feb. 24, 1867</td>
<td>Susan Auersbach</td>
<td>35</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 23, 1867</td>
<td>Dorothy Catharine</td>
<td>14</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>April 10, 1867</td>
<td>John Miller</td>
<td>10</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>May 29, 1867</td>
<td>Charles Burns</td>
<td>22</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>June 7, 1867</td>
<td>Sarah James</td>
<td>36</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>July 10, 1867</td>
<td>John Smith</td>
<td>10</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>July 11, 1867</td>
<td>Mary Johnson</td>
<td>16</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>July 18, 1867</td>
<td>James Thomas</td>
<td>18</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>DISEASE</th>
<th>Duration before Admission</th>
<th>RESULT</th>
<th>DATE OF RESULT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Scarcity</td>
<td>35 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>Sept 15, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scarcity</td>
<td>20 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>May 30, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Malaria</td>
<td>10 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>March 26, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cholera</td>
<td>7 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>Feb 26, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dysentery</td>
<td>10 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>Jan 10, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dysentery</td>
<td>15 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>Dec 15, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dysentery</td>
<td>7 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>Oct 20, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dysentery</td>
<td>10 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>Sept 10, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dysentery</td>
<td>15 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>Aug 20, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dysentery</td>
<td>7 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>July 10, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dysentery</td>
<td>10 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>June 10, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dysentery</td>
<td>15 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>May 10, 1867</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dysentery</td>
<td>7 days</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td>April 10, 1867</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Document 3 – Kings County Hospital Admissions Book. 1860s. Brooklyn Collection, Brooklyn Public Library.
Transcription:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date of Admission</th>
<th>Ward</th>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Age</th>
<th>Married or single</th>
<th>Nativity</th>
<th>Where From</th>
<th>Class</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Feb 24, 1864</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>?</td>
<td>35</td>
<td></td>
<td>Ireland</td>
<td>Brooklyn</td>
<td>P</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 3, 1864</td>
<td>17</td>
<td>Hogarty, Catherine</td>
<td>24</td>
<td>“”</td>
<td>“”</td>
<td>“”</td>
<td>P</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 3, 1864</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>Hyde, Patrick</td>
<td>25</td>
<td>“”</td>
<td>?</td>
<td>P</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 5, 1864</td>
<td>22</td>
<td>Hall, Eliza</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>US</td>
<td>Brooklyn</td>
<td>P</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 8, 1864</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>Herrch, James</td>
<td>36</td>
<td>Ireland</td>
<td>Brooklyn</td>
<td>P</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 10, 1864</td>
<td>12</td>
<td>?</td>
<td>1 day</td>
<td>US</td>
<td>?</td>
<td>P</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>March 11, 1864</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>?</td>
<td>24</td>
<td>Ireland</td>
<td>Brooklyn</td>
<td>P</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Disease</th>
<th>Duration before admission</th>
<th>Result</th>
<th>Date of Result</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Insanity</td>
<td>?</td>
<td></td>
<td>March 5, 1864</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pregnancy</td>
<td>Recovered</td>
<td></td>
<td>Sept 25, 1864</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ulcer of the</td>
<td>Rec</td>
<td></td>
<td>May 30, 1864</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bronchitis Acute</td>
<td>Recov.</td>
<td></td>
<td>March</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>---of both legs</td>
<td>Recovd</td>
<td></td>
<td>---</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Recovd</td>
<td></td>
<td>July 25, 1864</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psychosis</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>May 7, 1864</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
1. What year does this page of the admissions book illustrate?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

2. What were some of the diseases listed? Do you think these diseases still exist?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

3. What struck you about the Kings County Admissions book?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

4. What does this book tell you about the population of people near the hospital?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________
Kings County Hospital, or as it is now known as Kings County Hospital Center, has claimed many "firsts" in the field of medicine. Located on Clarkson Avenue between New York Avenue and Albany Avenue, "it was the site of the first open-heart surgery performed in New York State; Kings County physicians invented the world’s first hemodialysis machine, conducted the first studies of HIV infection in women and produced the first human images using magnetic resonance imaging (MRI). In addition, Kings County was named the first Level 1 Trauma Center in the U.S. “(NYC.gov)
1. Describe the image.

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

2. Where is Kings County Hospital located?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

3. What were some of the “firsts” that took place in Kings County Hospital? Explain.

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________
Document 5 – Holy Cross Cemetery. Brooklyn Collection, Brooklyn Public Library.

Inscription: 1849, Holy Cross Cemetery opened in the Town of Flatbush as the out-growth of the old burial ground at St. James Church on Jay St., which was the first Catholic Church, 1822. The cemetery now embraces 100 acres, and lists more than half a million interments.

The cemetery is located at 3620 Tilden Avenue between Snyder Avenue, Schenectady Avenue, Cortelyou Road and Brooklyn Avenue. Some notable residents include John Brosnan (Civil War Medal of Honor recipient), Lucy Burns (Brooklyn Suffragette), and Louis Capone and Frankie Yale (Mob bosses).
1. Where is Holy Cross Cemetery located?

2. Describe the image of the entrance to the cemetery.

3. How many permanent residents are there at Holy Cross Cemetery? Name a few.

4. What religious affiliation do you think is associated with the cemetery? Explain.
East Flatbush Used to Be ‘Goat Town’
But One Can’t Even Keep Chicken There Now

East Flatbush has changed plenty since Sam Kerschenbaum was a boy. It was only about fifteen years ago, maybe less, that goats roamed the lots in that section of Brooklyn and youngsters played baseball and football in the bumpy fields. In those days East Flatbush was commonly known as “Goat Town.”

But no more, as Mr. Kerschenbaum learned yesterday in Flatbush Magistrates Court. Nowadays, it seems, a man can’t even keep a chicken in his own backyard without offending the sensibilities of neighbors and getting a summons for violating the Sanitary Code.

It was all very puzzling for Mr. Kerschenbaum and he said so to Magistrate Francis X. Giaccone. After all, he explained, he owned the house at 37 East Fifty-third Street and the yard behind it. He also owned the chicken and kept it in the yard.

“Look, judge,” said the 43-year-old defendant, “in my house I have a parrot and a canary. I don’t have a permit for them, but they’re pets just like the chicken. So what’s wrong with the chicken? She doesn’t bother anyone. My family likes her and every once in a while she gives us an egg. We love that chicken just like the parrot and the canary.”

Patiently, Magistrate Giaccone listened to the explanation and then suggested three alternatives: 1. Try to get a permit for the chicken. 2. Keep the chicken in the house. 3. Eat the chicken.

Mr. Kerschenbaum protested vigorously against the last suggestion. “I’m not in the poultry business and I wouldn’t have the heart to kill the chicken.”

Magistrate Giaccone shrugged and postponed the case until March 31. Mr. Kerschenbaum left the court, shaking his head and muttering that “things didn’t used to be like this in Brooklyn.”

1. How has East Flatbush changed, according to the article?

__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________

2. Why is Mr. Kerschenbaum so upset?

__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________

3. What was East Flatbush commonly referred to in the past? Explain.

__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________

4. What does the judge propose to Mr. Kerschenbaum as a solution to his problem?

__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________

East Flatbush Primary Source Packet
Wingate High School Hailed As Great Education Project

POST-WAR MILESTONE—The cornerstone of the $6,000,000 Gen. George W. Wingate High School, Kingston Ave. and Rutland Road, the city's first post-war high school, is set in place by, left to right, Arthur Levitt and the Rev. John M. Coleman, Brooklyn members of the Board of Education; Joseph Reich, borough secretary, and B. Sumner Gruzen, architect of the banjo-shaped school. Ceremonies were held yesterday at the school.

The cornerstone of the General George W. Wingate High School, Kingston Ave. and Rutland Road, hardened into place today as construction of the city's first new high school since World War II was stepped up to meet the scheduled date for completion in September, 1954.

At cornerstone-laying ceremonies yesterday, the Rev. John M. Coleman, Brooklyn member of the Board of Education and chairman of the program, described the event as a symbol of the most important single project in the Board of Education's post war building program. The giant $6,000,000 banjo-shaped school, a sharp departure from traditional school design, will accommodate 3,200 students and relieve overcrowding in Samuel J. Tilden, Erasmus Hall and Thomas Jefferson High School, which are presently on extended time schedules.

Named for Boro Hero

Speaking at the ceremonies, Arthur Levitt, Brooklyn member of the Board of Education, said that the name of General Wingate had been chosen for the school so that future generations of school children will have a model and shining example of American manhood.

He described General Wingate, a Civil War hero, as a great American, Brooklynite, soldier and athlete who emulated the finest attributes of citizenship.

Borough Secretary Joseph Reich, speaking for Borough President Cashmore, expressed the hope that the name of Wingate would be an inspiration to students to offset “the unfortunate conditions in which American students today find ways to break from tradition and listen to the undermining of their thoughts.”

Dr. Jacob Greenberg, deputy superintendent of schools, also spoke. The invocation and salutation was read by Rabbi Jacob Leibowitz, spiritual leader of the East Flatbush Jewish Community Center and chairman of the local school board.

1. What is so interesting about the design of the school?

2. Who is the school named after? Why was he an important person in Brooklyn’s history?

3. Using your prior knowledge, and DOCUMENT 1, what else was named after this man?

4. Using the article for clues, what group of people do you think lived in East Flatbush in the 1950s?
NO CRITICS IN BROOKLYN

An Editorial

A consultant retained by the City Planning Commission warns that a ghetto future threatens East Flatbush unless the city takes decisive action now on racial problems. In a long, gloomy report, Walter Thabit cites the “little organized effort to welcome the Negroes or Puerto Ricans who already live in the area into community life.” In addition, he notes real estate speculation and deterioration of buildings.

Hastily, the mayor’s office assures Brooklynites that the report “does not reflect either official policy or a consensus of opinion about East Flatbush.” In so many words, Thabit is told to stand in a corner, face to the wall.

Mrs. Millar Graff, horticulture writer, similarly gets her comeuppance after lambasting Mayor Lindsay for neglecting election promises to improve Prospect Park. Parks Commissioner August Heckscher asks her to resign from the non-salaried Prospect Park Advisory Board.

In Brooklyn at least, the Lindsay administration—like the sundial—records only the sunny hours. Trouble is, considering the frightening speed with which municipal problems now develop, the sundial is a dangerously archaic device today.
1. What is the problem discussed in this article?

2. What was the consultant’s duty?

3. Why is the Mayor’s office upset about the report?

4. Why does Mr. Hecksher want Mrs. Graff to resign?
New York City’s oldest house and first official landmark, the Wyckoff Farmhouse Museum (ca. 1652) stands in M. Fidler-Wyckoff House Park in Brooklyn, New York.

In 1652, “Pieter Claesen and Grietje Van Nes acquired a farm in the newly established community of Nieuw Amersfoort in what would eventually comprise the city, and later borough, of Brooklyn. The house they occupied was a simple one room structure with a packed earth floor and unglazed windows, with doors at both ends and a large jambless (open) hearth.

Over the centuries, the house has been reconfigured, expanded, and modernized to eventually encompass 6 rooms with three fireplaces, a walk-up attic above, and root cellar below. The Wyckoff family occupied the site for eight successive generations until 1901 when the land and house were sold to developers.

After more than a half century of disrepair and a devastating fire, the house was restored in 1982 and opened to the public as a museum.

After the English assumed control of New Netherland, residents practicing patronymics (a naming system that utilized one’s father’s name in place of a surname) were required to adopt, or freeze, surnames that could be passed down each generation. Pieter Claesen chose the name Wykhof, which most of his descendants have spelled Wyckoff. The Wyckoff surname is unique – so much so that the vast majority of American and Canadian Wyckoffs can trace their lineage to one of Pieter and Grietje’s eleven children.”
1. Why do you think this house was preserved as a museum and a NYC landmark?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

2. What do you think the house looked like in the late 1600s?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

3. Why does the house museum have the name Wyckoff?

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

4. Does the house look like the houses we have today? Explain.

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________
The construction at Brooklyn’s Downstate Medical Center in 1963 was intended to be a major boost for Brooklyn’s economy, providing years of employment for laborers and construction workers. Unfortunately, the vast majority of the jobs were given to unions that were traditionally “unavailable” to black workers.

In response to this discrimination, CORE joined with the Black Ministers Coalition and other organizations to stage a major sit-in at the construction site itself, with the intention of breaking the unions and increasing jobs for African Americans and Latinos. On July 15, 1963, fourteen of Brooklyn’s African American ministers arrived at Downstate with over 75 parishioners to picket. In the weeks that followed, several hundred people, many of whom were members of Brooklyn CORE, were arrested for picketing.

Perhaps more than any other demonstration by Brooklyn CORE, the protests at Downstate Medical Center attracted great attention from the media, as well from other Civil Rights activists. According to the article associated with this image, Malcolm X, then serving as the leader of the Black Muslims, visited the demonstrations regularly. However, Malcolm X chose not to participate in the protest because it was conducted by an interracial group.
1. Why did CORE believe Downstate Medical Center discriminated against blacks?

2. What happened on July 15, 1963?

3. Was Malcom X involved in the protests? Why or why not?

4. What were some tactics used by CORE during the Downstate protests?
GLOSSARY

Affiliation: the state or process of affiliating or being affiliated. Association; relationship.

Census: an official enumeration of the population, with details as to age, sex, occupation, etc.

Comeuppance: a punishment or fate that someone deserves.

Interment: the burial of a corpse in a grave or tomb, typically with funeral rites.

Predominantly: Mainly; for the most part.

Tactic: an action or strategy carefully planned to achieve a specific end.